

Tag API

Integrate Temperature Data into our own Systems

Tag APIs help you to integrate data from the Tag into your own ERP system, and make it easy for your users to see and watch the important temperature data in their usual system.

We offer two types of API. TagSensors' standard API let you connect to our system with a username and password. Alternatively, our Push API directly pushes data from our system into yours, making it much easier to analyse and integrate with other ERP data.

Standard API

- Connect to TagSensors API with a username and password
- Get all data from your Tags
- Get lists of last read Tags

Push API

- Tag API connects to your system and pushes data from the Tags as they are read
- Supports several ways of authentication and setup from the customers system
